

QUESTION & ANSWER

I WANT A JOB THAT I LOVE - BUT I DON'T KNOW WHAT THAT IS. HOW DO I FIND MY PASSION?

We love this question at En Point! It's not easy to find what our passion is and then connect that to a career - but we also know life is too short to long for Fridays and dread Mondays. It is possible to find a fulfilling and exciting career, but it takes work. That's where we come in!

TO GET YOU STARTED, REFLECT ON YOUR LIFE EXPERIENCES TO DATE AND ASK YOURSELF:

- What are you interested in?
- What are you passionate about? (Hint: if you can't get straight to passion, what are you curious about lately?)
- What would you do if you could do anything?
- What kind of company would you work with/ for/ build?
- What kind of leader do you want to work with?
- What are the characteristics of the team you'd work well with?
- What are your "non-negotiables"?
- What kind of environment do you work best in?
- What are your strengths? (Also consider skills that you'd like to improve)

Your answers can help you start to piece together your "ideal career target".

AFTER REFLECTING, CONSIDER THIS:

- What themes emerged?
- Are the answers different than what you thought they would be?
- Is there anything that after looking it for a period of time, you want to adjust?
- What is missing from your list?
- How do people who know you really well answer these questions for you ?

HAVE PATIENCE WITH YOURSELF. REMEMBER THAT THIS IS A JOURNEY, THERE IS TREMENDOUS VALUE IN THE SELF- DISCOVERY PROCESS.
